Dear Mark:

This is in further reference to the Postal Service's February 12 correspondence concerning deployment of the Small Delivery Unit Sorter (SDUS) and June 30 correspondence concerning the deployment of modified versions of the SDUS, known as the Single Induction Package Sorter (SIPS) (copies enclosed).

As a result of the deployment of the SIPS, some delivery units previously scheduled to receive an SDUS will not receive the equipment as planned.

Enclosed is a list of the delivery units that will not receive an SDUS.

Please contact Mike Faber at 215-432-0613 if you have any questions concerning this matter.

Sincerely,

Dear Mark:

As previously discussed during the September 17, 2020, Technological and Mechanization meeting, the Postal Service intends to deploy a new package sorting machine, the Small Delivery Unit Sorter (SDUS), to various locations throughout the country.

The SDUS will be housed in delivery units and is designed to sort packages to the carrier route level. Currently, a single SDUS is operational at the York, Pennsylvania Post Office.

Enclosed on compact disc is a spreadsheet that contains the 2021 deployment schedule for the SDUS. Please note, the information contained in this spreadsheet is subject to change.

Please contact Mike Faber at 215-432-0613 if you have any questions concerning this matter.

Sincerely,

Dear Mark:

This is in further reference to the Postal Service's June 15 correspondence concerning the establishment of Package Support Annexes (PSAs) (copies enclosed).

The Postal Service plans to deploy modified versions of the SDUS, known as the Single Induction Package Sorter (SIPS), to 42 PSAs and 9 mail processing facilities throughout the country.

The SIPS, in contrast to the SDUS, will be affixed with an Optical Character Recognition (OCR) unit, allowing it to read the text of addresses as opposed to only barcodes. Additionally, preventative maintenance for the SIPS will be performed by maintenance personnel.

Enclosed is a list of sites where the SIPS will be deployed. The SIPS deployment schedule has not yet been finalized and will be provided as soon as it becomes available.

Please contact Mike Faber at 215-432-0613 if you have any questions concerning this matter.

Sincerely,
